The International Association of Piano Builders and Technicians is a non-political worldwide association of piano service organizations and individuals. The purpose of the association is the formation and maintenance of a worldwide fellowship of piano technicians and rebuilders. The objectives of the organization are to encourage and to provide a means of exchange of technical information and related subjects and for cooperation in scientific research to improve the quality of pianos. Exchange of information is on a voluntary basis.

Organizations wishing to become members must be given a provisional membership by vote of the Board of Directors and then be presented to Council for ratification. If ratified, the association will be granted the appropriate seat on the Board of Directors. Individual memberships are available to technicians who have no formal organization in his/her country or if any such organization is not a member of IAPBT.

Please complete the application provided and mail or fax to the IAPBT Headquarters office listed as soon as possible. (Feel free to send the information electronically to mary@ptg.org.)

Thank you for your interest in IAPBT!
